

HEALTH CARE CONSULTANTS (HCC)

Healthcare organizations are engaging health care consultants and other service organizations to help them navigate the constantly changing landscape during an increasingly challenging time. While health care consultants are not actively engaged in medical / patient diagnosis or direct delivery of health services, their activities have a definite impact on the administration and oversight of the medical care being provided. Allied World has developed a professional liability policy that includes contingent bodily injury coverage specific to the exposures and needs of this diverse group.

EXPERIENCE COUNTS

Allied World's broad understanding of the entire healthcare segment provides unique insight into the exposures facing Health Care Consultants. We believe this group is currently underserved in the market, and understand the risks faced by this diverse group. Our experienced underwriters can craft coverage to address the unique needs to make sure that no gaps exist.
